

The Channel's Best Sales Partners
Put Intelisys in
Sprint's 2007 Partner President's Club

Thanks to what is clearly the best Sales Partner community in the indirect channel, Intelisys has received the Sprint 2007 Partner President's Club award. The achievement of our Sales Partners made Intelisys one of only three wireline winners of this 2007 recognition.

The Sprint Partner President's Club is an exclusive Sprint Partner Program sales recognition program for Business Solutions Partners (BSPs). Achieving Partner President's Club status confers on Sprint BSPs highly acclaimed industry recognition, as well as membership in an exclusive community of top performers.

Upon accepting the award for Intelisys, Mike McKenney, our Director of Partner Sales, said, "We'd like to thank Sprint for this coveted acknowledgement that reflects the success and excellence of our Sales Partners, who trust Intelisys enough to put their business with us. We have been saying for some time now that the Intelisys Sales Partner community is the best in the channel. This recognition provides one more piece of evidence in support of that fact. We look forward to continuing our successful relationship with Sprint and achieving even greater heights in 2008 and beyond."
